Unhappy with her lack of breast volume and excess abdominal fat, this 33-year-old patient underwent a Mommy Makeover with Sugar Land, TX plastic surgeon Ankur Mehta, MD to achieve her desired body shape.

Voorhees, NJ plastic surgeon William Franckle, MD performed a tummy tuck and breast lift with saline implants on this 41-year-old patient. He placed the implants under the muscle for a more natural look.

This 38-year-old patient sought Irvine, CA plastic surgeon Andrew Smith, MD for a tummy tuck with liposuction of the waist and a breast augmentation using 435-cc silicone, high-profile, smooth, round implants.

Unhappy with her body changes after two pregnancies, this 33-year-old patient underwent an abdominoplasty and a bilateral breast augmentation using 360-cc implants with New York plastic surgeon Elie Levine, MD.

New York plastic surgeon B. Aviva Preminger, MD restored this 34-year-old patient's shape with a breast augmentation and tummy tuck with liposuction, giving her a beautiful, youthful-looking result.

Old Lyme, CT plastic surgeon Vinod V. Pathy, MD gave this 36-year-old patient a breast reduction and tummy tuck, which contoured her waistline and alleviated the neck and back pain caused by her larger breasts.

This 33-year-old patient complained about her drooping breasts and lax skin and stretch marks on her stomach. La Jolla, CA plastic surgeon Johan Brahme, MD performed a Mommy Makeover to address her concerns.

To reposition her breasts and give her a toned physique, San Diego plastic surgeon Larry H. Pollack, MD performed a Mommy Makeover, including a breast lift and tummy tuck, on this 43-year-old patient.

Individual results may vary. Undergoing this treatment does not guarantee these exact results.
